Commission Opposes Walker Veto

The Chain o' Lakes-Fox River Commission went on record last Friday endorsing an override of Gov. Dan Walker's veto of funds to clean up area lakes.

The proposal was for $940,000 for dredging and channel improvement in Nippersink and Pistakee Lakes.

The bill, which was the sole recommendation of the commission of legislators and lawmen from Lake and McHenry counties, sailed through the Illinois House and Senate without a single dissenting vote.

But the governor vetoed it, stating that it was not a budgeted item and there were other approved appropriated funds to cover the job to be done.

"I THINK the commission should adopt some position, such as an override," said William E. Brook of Antioch, chairman of the group which was meeting at Antioch High School.

State Rep. John Matijevich, D-North Chicago, said:

"If we take any position other than an override we might as well turn in our chips. We're trying to save the Chain and the immediate need for work in Nippersink and Pistakee lakes was our first step."

CABL Urges Decision on Annexation

The Antioch village board has been asked to put the CABL company's request for annexation on its agenda as soon as possible.

The request was made Monday night by CABL's attorney, F. James Lumber.

Representatives of CABL, school districts 34 and 117, and village trustees met at the village hall.

The CABL property, west of Tiffany Rd. and south of North Ave., possibly will become a housing development if annexed to the village.

CABL has agreed to give

Huge Demonstration Planned Sunday to Save Chain o' Lakes

Boaters and motorists will flock to Korpan's Point, near Fox Lake, Sunday in a massive demonstration to "save the Chain o' Lakes and Fox River."

Harry Robin, the Grant township supervisor who is organizing the event, calls it a demonstration "to override Gov. Dan Walker's veto of $940,000 appropriated to restore the greatest natural bodies of water in Illinois."

The funds were approved by the Illinois House and Senate to build a dredging material containment area in Nippersink Lake and for completing channel improvements in Pistakee Lake.

SUNDAY'S EVENT is being called an "Anchor In."

"Citizens who love and use the Chain o' Lakes are invited to come by water or come by land," Robin said. "Decorate your boat with flags and pennants. Make original signs. Be anchored by 11 a.m. sharp."

Robin said that public support of Chain o' Lakes and Fox River improvements must be displayed to get attention and force public officials into action.

The Antioch village board last week went on record as opposing the governor's veto of the $940,000. It was to be the first step in the Chain o' Lakes-Fox River Commission's goal to combat flooding the pollution in the lakes and river.

William E. Brook, chairman of the commission, will be one of the speakers at the "Anchor In."

ROBIN SAID the program will last only about 90 minutes. The speakers will be on a 47-foot tower with sound equipment that will reach a mile, he said.

"We expect more than 1,000 boats to converge on the area," Robin said. "But we want to keep the event short, so that people can disperse in an orderly manner and go about enjoying their holiday."

ANTIOCH AREA boaters have been invited to meet in the middle of Lake Marie at 9:30 Sunday morning.

Wayne Sanford of Smith Marine said the use of his launching ramp will be free up until 10:30 for boaters who participate in the "Anchor In."

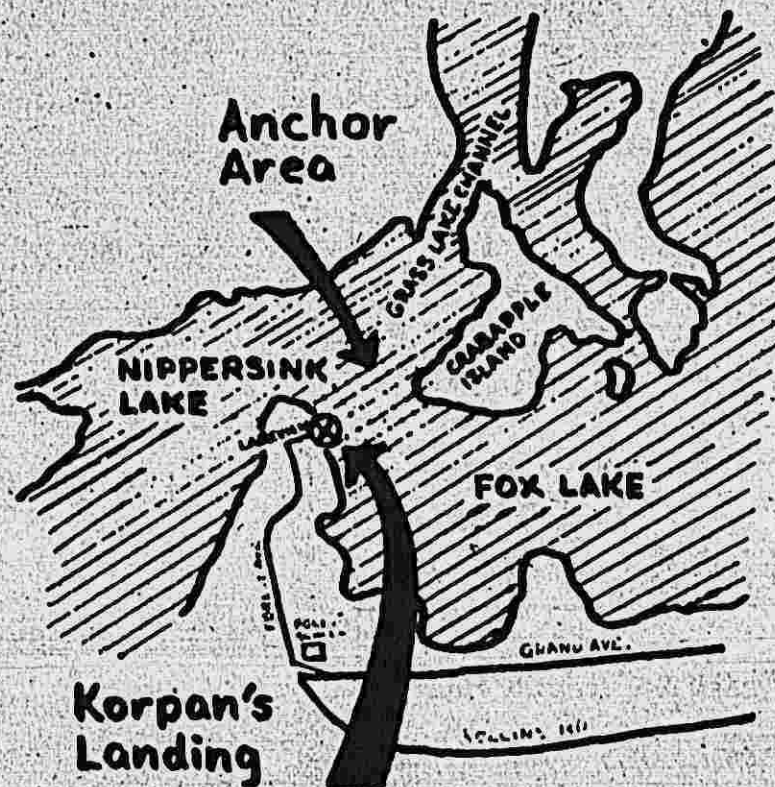

"The sheriff's patrol boat will lead us with lights flashing, I'll follow right behind and the rest of the boats can follow us," Sanford said. "We need everyone we can get to participate in this demonstration."

F. James Lumber, president of the Antioch Chamber of Commerce and Industry, said that his group has endorsed the "Anchor In" and is encouraging its members to participate.

The Lake County Board also has endorsed the demonstration to override the governor's veto.

BUT STATE Sen. Jack Schaeffer, R-Cary, warned that "overrides in general are going to be difficult. If we receive no encouragement from the governor's office that our work is going to receive approval, I don't think we should waste any more taxpayers' money on studies. I would move we seriously consider disbanding this commission."

Matijevich suggested Schaeffer was taking a defeatist attitude and then Schaeffer agreed.

"This commission shouldn't cash in yet," Matijevich said.

Schaeffer said, "But I don't think we should give anyone false hopes. I assume when the governor vetoes something I think he intends to make that veto stick."

"If this commission plans to make another study that is meaningless and unsuccessful, I don't want any part of it," Schaeffer said.

The veto session in Springfield will be Oct. 22.

"WE ARE an action commission," Schaeffer said. "When people ask what we're doing and I tell them a study, they say, 'Oh,' and walk away."

State Rep. Donale Deuster, R-Mundelein, agreed with Matijevich that the commission should continue its work. "People love these lakes and want some action," he said. "Our scope goes beyond one appropriation that lands on one governor's desk."

CONGRESSMAN Robert McClory appeared briefly at Friday's meeting and pledged his support for whatever state and federal funding can be obtained for the commission's work.

McClory noted that dredging of the lakes once was standard procedure but in recent years the state has abandoned those projects.

IN OTHER action, the commission approved the appointment of Ed Snearley as its project environmentalist.

The group agreed to meet at 1 p.m. on Sept. 5 at McHenry

Country Club with officials of the Illinois Department of Transportation, Division of Water Resources.

Leo M. Eisel, head of the division, said he has a budget appropriation of $25,000 for navigation and recreational dredging and suggested a meeting "to allow for carrying out joint programs."

Welfare System Threatens U.S. With Bankruptcy

By Sen. Barry Goldwater

Can the American economy generate enough funds in the next 10 years to meet the demands of an expanding nation?

This question is becoming more serious by the minute. And many voices are being raised in warning over excesses in government spending.

ONE STARK appraisal came recently from Roy Ash, former director of the U.S. Office of Management and Budget, who says we are standing "at a watershed point on decisions that could determine the future social and political systems in this country." He emphasized that he was talking about a system not just in our children's time but in our own time.

Ash pointed out that in 1962 federal expenditures exceeded $100 billion in one year, while in 1971 we crossed the $200 billion line. In fiscal 1975 the federal expenditures rose to $300 billion, and in the fiscal year just starting the spending will approximate $1 billion a day.

At the same time now-retired Secretary of Health, Education and Welfare Caspar Weinberger called for immediate abolition of the federal food-stamp, welfare and Supplementary Security Income programs. He suggested that they be replaced by a "simple cash grant" based on income and on a "strong work requirement."

Weinberger, like other secretaries of Health, Education and Welfare, was appalled by the level of welfare expenditures on a nation-wide basis. He claims the nation's welfare system threatens the country with bankruptcy.

AMONG THE other voices raised in warning was that of the Brookings Institution, which never has been known as a center of fiscal conservatism.

In a report on our national economic resources, the institution asks whether the private sector will produce enough funds during the remainder of the decade to finance industrial expansion, development of new energy sources, mass transit, housing and other needs. It concluded that "we can afford the future, but just barely."

And even a narrow margin of safety cannot be achieved, the study says, unless the government soon starts running budget surpluses and the Federal Reserve System promotes low interest rates with an easy-money policy.

The study warned that the surpluses would have to be genuine, not full-employment surpluses.

Women of The Moose

Last week's meeting of the Women of the Moose was attended by 32 co-workers.

Mary Galster won first prize, a $25 savings account donated by the State Bank of Antioch.

Other winners to receive prizes were Judy Cook, Virginia Weinmann, Jean Meire, Elizabeth Mercatores, Louise Stenborg, Florence Ahrens and Dolores Povilaitis.

Fran Bock won "Share the pot," the attendance prize.

Autumn activities, projects and dances will be coming up soon. On Saturday, Sept. 20, the Balloon Dance, featuring the George Daisey Trio, will be held. Also coming up is the Feather Party.

On Saturday, Nov. 22, the Loyal Order of the Moose and Women of the Moose combine to sponsor a "Fifty-Sixties Dance Party" featuring Guy Gange and his Blue Notes. Start looking into the old trunk in the attic!

Viking Football Players Need New Equipment

The Antioch Vikings, originated six years ago with a total of 30 boys, enough for two teams. They formed into the lightweights and heavyweights and were coached by a staff of two.

It has evolved into a thriving organization of some 70 young athletes, split into three teams: featherweights, lightweights

Saturday mornings, and the lightweights and heavyweights on Sunday afternoons. All home games are played on the Antioch High School field.

The teams have always played well; however, last year the lightweights captured first place in their division, the heavyweights placed second.

Some of the former players have gone on to play high school football. However, the program is designed to give every boy the opportunity to develop his talents and skills to participate in the game of football. Learning good sportsmanship, teamwork, and discipline also aids them in the game of life.

During the past year, the only major equipment purchases were the original investment. Due to the growth of the team and the necessity of replacing worn-out equipment, the Vikings now find it necessary to raise much-needed funds. They are asking for the support of the community in this endeavor.

and heavyweights, ranging from the fifth through eighth grades. There is a coaching staff of nine. The teams are cheered on by young ladies from the seventh and eighth grades from the Upper Grade School.

The Vikings are participants in the Northern Illinois Junior Football League. Each team plays a schedule of approximately 10 games, starting in September. The featherweights play on Friday nights or

The Firemen are going to try to keep their winning streak going this weekend when they meet the Jaycees on Saturday evening at the Little League diamond. Should be an interesting evening!

The Mel Stillson's have had a busy summer. Mrs. Stillson's sister, Virginia Shepherdson, has been visiting from Sioux Falls, South Dakota and Dee Stillson Hauser and her husband Mike and family have been here. The Hauser's have completed five years of teaching in American schools abroad and will now reside in Illinois.

Virginia and Mel Stillson will be traveling to Madison, South Dakota to attend their class reunion and renew old acquaintances from their high school days.

Mrs. Stillson, who retired in June, will be back substitute teaching in the Lake Villa schools this fall.

BACK FROM three happy weeks in England is Valerie Baczynski of the Antioch police department.

Val took her sons, Steve and Paul, to visit her mother and sister, who live near London. It was her first trip "home" in nine years and she probably can't wait to return again.

The English are just "a great race of people," Val says. They're having a hard year over there, just as we are here, but the English don't complain.

"I guess that's why there'll always be an England," says Valerie.

Members of the St. Stephen Lutheran Church Council were challenged to a baseball game by the Luther League members last Wednesday. The "old men" put on quite a show in the last few innings, (even the gals helped) winning 14-13. Good thing the umpire didn't wear his glasses. Lots of limping and groaning the next day -- the poor first baseman broke his finger! Oh well kids, next year you'll get 'em.

Congrats to Randy Wix. Hear tell he came back from the Wheel Chair Olympics sporting several medals.

HEARD THAT Steve and Dee Alberts had a great time last Thursday night. Seems they went on their first boat ride through the Chain, had dinner at a lakefront restaurant in Fox Lake and ended the evening by getting stranded in the middle of Grass Lake during the storm. Who else but the Alberts would be lucky enough to get caught in a storm and have to sit it out at Blarney's Island?

Editorial

This was a good first step and now the General Assembly, during its recent session, took a second step by passing Senate Bill 404. This legislation calls for consumer education courses to include an understanding of the roles of consumers, agriculture, business and government in formulating and achieving the goals of the competitive enterprise system.

This second step is necessary because a lack of personal economic competence seriously deprives many individuals from functioning as consumers, workers, investors and voters.

In turn, consumer decisions affect the ability of agriculture, commerce, industry, the professions and other categories of business to function. Also, the taxation, subsidization and regulation of business and labor by local, state and federal governments directly affects the consumer as to the quality, costs and kinds of goods and services available.

Mandating economic education will not guarantee a better economy, but it will assure that more intelligent and knowledgeable decisions are made.

ANTIOCH'S NEW Heritage Professional Building will look like this when completed. The architect's drawing depicts the 2-story building now under construction on Main St., across from the Lower Grade School. Completion is expected in October or November. The two-story Colonial building will have about 6,700 square feet on each floor and parking for about 70 cars. It will include the dental offices of Dr. John H. Boarini and an orthodontist, Dr. Michael Ivans. Dr. Boarini said there also is space for general offices, as well as professional persons such as architects, engineers and accountants. Ground was broken in June and the attractive building is quickly taking shape.

COIN CLUB PRESENTS PLAQUE - The Antioch Coin Club expressed its appreciation to the State Bank of Antioch last week, presenting an attractive plaque to the bank, which lets the club use its downstairs facilities for meetings on the third Monday night of each month. From left: Curt Rosemann, president of the club; Dennis Groth, who designed the plaque; Richard Daniel, vice-president of the bank; Bob Petterec, vice-president of the Coin Club, and Bob McDonald, treasurer. The plaque was presented to the bank "in appreciation for its help in furthering numismatism in the Antioch area."

The Town Crier

BOY SCOUTS from Grass Lake Troop 80 attended last week's meeting of the village board and asked what they could do to help the community.

Village Clerk Marilyn Sterbenz had a good idea. They could paint the baggage car that is being brought to Antioch to decorate the "RTA station" near the water tower.

Village Trustee Arnold Weber also had an idea.

The Boy Scouts could go around town and return the shopping carts that have been wheeled away from supermarkets by thoughtless persons.

WE'RE STILL wondering why regular gasoline in the Antioch area sells for between 58.9 and 63.9 cents a gallon.

In some nearby communities you can buy it for as low as 51.9.

SOMEONE HAS estimated that a total of 320 golf balls were lost by the 80 men who played in the Antioch Lions Club outing at Mukwonago last Wednesday.

The Rainbow Springs course was very difficult, with water hazards on most of the 18 holes. Besides that, a heavy downpour soaked the course and it was like playing on a wet sponge.

One foursome reported that it lost a total of 32 golf balls. One player, who shall remain anonymous because he is otherwise known as a fine swinger of the golf club, admitted that he lost 10 balls.

It is a tribute to Jack Fields that he was the low scorer in this tournament. And that two of his partners, Jim Fields and Cliff Houghton, tied for second. They did the best jobs of keeping their shots in the narrow fairways and out of the drinks.

I mentioned this to a Cape Codder and he said he knew. And when you succeed in also transplanting the flavor, he will help you to crow about it.

St. Francis Borgia Church was the setting for the wedding of Mary Lou Muller and Anthony L. Chirchirillo.

The bride is the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Frank A. Muller of Antioch and the groom is the son of Mr. and Mrs. Don R. Chirchirillo of Chicago.

Debbie Shymanik was the matron of honor. Bridesmaids were Ann Cheryl and Joann Fioretto, cousins of the groom, Chris Muller, the bride's sister-in-law, and Mary Lynn Olsen, sister of the groom.

Keith Foecking served as the best man. Groomsmen were Mark Grunt, Bruce Holmburg, Frank Muller, brother of the bride, and Alan Olsen, the groom's brother-in-law.

Patti Muller, sister of the bride, and Mary Lisa Olsen, the groom's niece, served as junior bridesmaids.

Following the afternoon ceremony, a reception was held at William Tell in Countryside for 300 relatives and friends.

The couple is planning a September honeymoon.

The new Mr. and Mrs. Anthony Chirchirillo plan to live in River Grove.

Budget Hearing At ACHS

A public hearing on the tentative budget for Antioch Community High School will be held at 8 p.m. Thursday.

The hearing will follow the regular monthly meeting of the school's board of education, which begins at 7:30 in the board room.

The tentative budget calls for $2,964,010 in expenditures and $2,999,840 in receipts. The estimated receipts are up $93,443 from last year and the budget for the 1975-76 school year is in the black by $35,830.

Big Money

It will take an investment of between $40 and $50 billion a year from now on for the U.S. to achieve a reasonable level of self-sufficiency in petroleum, according to Dr. James S. Cross, economist and vice president of the American Petroleum Institute.

Police Check Burglary, Vandalism

One restaurant burglary and several cases of vandalism confronted Antioch police during the past week.

The burglary happened last Tuesday night at the Lakeside Restaurant, 410 Lake St. Owner John Katris showed police that entry was gained through a kitchen window by tearing off a screen.

Once inside the thief, or thieves, broke a padlock off a steel drawer and took $100. Then they raided the cash register for $50.

Another burglary attempt was made at H&S Manufacturing, 795 Bartlett Ave., last Friday. A front window was broken by a rock and, inside, cabinets and desks apparently were searched and disarranged. Reports to police indicated that nothing appeared to be missing.

Antioch police arrested a 20-year-old man for removing parking meters on Lake St. Also arrested were a 19-year-old and an 18-year-old who were caught throwing a hunting knife at the PM&L Theatre billboard. They have a court date in Fox Lake on Sept. 12.

Deluge Disrupts Midnight Madness

Everyone was willing to cooperate except the weatherman last Thursday when the Antioch Chamber of Commerce and Industry held its annual Midnight Madness celebration.

A heavy downpour started at 7 p.m. and lasted for at least four hours. Many shoppers dashed into stores and took advantage of sales, but some of the scheduled events had to be cancelled.

The first event, a Bicentennial Costume Contest for youngsters, was completed before the deluge. The judges, Ginny Cornelius, Carl Abbott and Jerry Pfarr, had a difficult time selecting three winners from the cleverly-attired group, but finally made these decisions:

First place: Cathy Heindl, 4, of Zion, who won a $25 savings bond from the State Bank of Antioch.

Second place: Matt Dye, 10, of Antioch, a $15 gift certificate from the Ben Franklin store.

Third place: Nicole Campo, 5, of Zion, who won an ice cream treat for her entire family at the Ice Cream Shoppe. All contestants also received free ice cream at White's Ice Cream Parlor.

Some people showed up in pajamas but, because of the rain, the annual pajama contest couldn't be held.

Fire departments from throughout Lake County took part in water fights. They were dressed for the weather and were getting wet anyway, so the rain didn't bother them.

The Antioch fire department performed valiantly again, serving beer right out there in the rain.

Safari Trap Shoot Set Sept. 14

Two big trap shooting events are scheduled in September at the range on the grounds of the Northern Illinois Conservation Club.

Sunday, Sept. 14, is the date of the annual Lions Club Safari Shoot, and Sunday, Sept. 28, will be the annual 885 Club Shoot.

The Lions Club Safari is a merchandise shoot which will last from 10 a.m. until dark. There will be refreshments at the clubhouse.

Known as a "meat shoot," contestants will be competing for turkeys, chickens, beef patties, cornish hens, hams and ducks.

"The events are geared so that everybody has a chance," said Bill Brook, who is co-chairman along with Dave Bushing.

"We have a prize for the shooter who does the worse, as well as the one who shoots the best," said Bushing.

There will be numerous events such as "Hi-Lo" and "White Bird." Normally, the clay pigeons are black or orange, but white "birds" will be released, too, and shooters breaking them will win prizes.

Contestants needn't sign up in fascinating for the children.

CIGARETTE LIGHTERS - The lighters with visible reservoirs containing REGULAR lighter fluid should NOT be used in flight as they may cause a large burst of flame. This restriction does not apply to reservoir lighters using BUTANE.

DURING DESCENT - Many people experience ear discomfort because of pressure changes. This is ordinarily relieved by sips of water or by the act of swallowing. If this fails, ask the Flight Attendant for a nasal spray. A few whiffs should alleviate the condition. If blockage persists, close the lips tightly, hold nostrils closed and blow gently until the ears "pop," thus equalizing the pressure. This will make you feel 100 percent better, for this can give one a lot of pain.

BAGGAGE - Do you have your name and address inside and outside your checked bags? Internal stick-on tags are available from most airlines. Also a distinctive label on the outside may prevent look-alike bags from being mistakenly claimed. Don't forget to lock your luggage to prevent accidental openings of latches.

MISCELLANEA TRAVEL FACTS - Electronic devices such as dictation recorders, calculators, hearing aids, heart pacemakers, watches and electric shavers are quite all right for use while in flight. However, some such as TV, or AM or FM broadcast receivers, must not be used because they may interfere with navigation and communications systems of the aircraft.

Super-Modifieds To Race Sunday

Open wheeled super-modified stock cars will make their first 1975 appearance at the Lake Geneva Raceway Sunday.

The program will conclude Sunday night racing on the asphalt oval. Saturday night racing of late models, sportsman and spectator stocks will continue at least through September with consideration being given to a few October dates.

Rau Stars at Lake Geneva

Ralph Rau, Paddock Lake, won the second 25-lap feature and came in second in the first of the twin 25-lap championship races Sunday night, to make him the overall winner at Lake Geneva Raceway.

It was a real race of champions as the first feature had six red flags in use. Larry Hicks was the winner.

In the second feature, Rau jumped to the lead and held it throughout the race with Hicks driving Dave Heinzpeter's car on his bumper most of the race, but only to finish second followed by Roger Meyer.

FISHING DERBY Sweepstakes winners were selected by Tom Mehlhorn (right) of Antioch, assisted by Dr. James Kopriva, a director of the State Bank of Antioch.

Fishing Derby Ends Labor Day

The Chain o' Lakes Fishing Derby being sponsored by Pepsi-Cola and the State Bank of Antioch will be coming to a conclusion during the Labor Day weekend.

The list of winners is piling up and a post-derby banquet is being planned.

This week's top sweepstakes winner was Rocco Falco of Chicago. David Dyer of Rt. 2, Box 347, Antioch was fifth in the sweepstakes.

Among the third place winners in actual catches were Bob Becvar of Antioch, who landed a large crappie on Lake Marie, and Harry Filip, who took a sizeable striped bass from Channel Lake.

Eric Nielsen led the crappie catchers. He is from Ingleside and was fishing on Pistakee Bay. Lee Pinkowski of Mundelein caught the largest bluegill on Lake Marie.

Channel Lake Boat House produced the largest northern pike, and the biggest bass, and Lake Marie, near Rudy's Resort, produced the biggest walleye pike.

Title Won By Jones

Tom Jones clinched the 1975 Waukegan Speedway late model championship by winning his 15th and 16th features at the quarter-mile oval Saturday night.

And hobby driver Jim Naset had an equally good night, winning both hobby features and a heat race. Naset increased his point lead in that class when runnerup Dennis Topcik collided with another car below the starter's tower in a bone-jarring crash.

Jones showed he meant business Saturday by posting the fastest qualifying lap on the slick track.

Carl Major raced back into the winner's circle Sunday night by beating Ray Young and Vern Browne in the 30-lap race.

Sunday's races were the final tuneup before the three 50-lap late model races scheduled at Waukegan this weekend. A Carling 50-lap race will be run Saturday night with two 50-lap races scheduled Sunday. A variety card including hobbies and a destruction derby will be run Friday night.

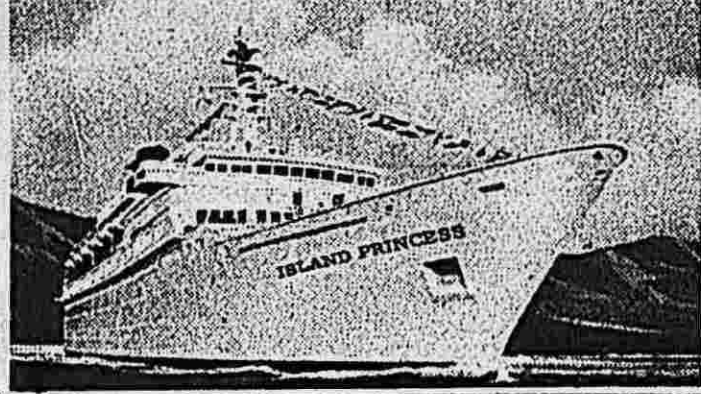

Lap prize sales indicate that a big winner in next Sunday's races could take home nearly $1,200. An outstanding field is expected.

Racing will continue at Waukegan with two more Saturday night races in September and a final "Chicago-land Championship" 50-lap race on Sunday afternoon, Sept. 14.

Firemen Prepare For 2 Big Games

The Antioch fire department softball team, encouraged by its recent 12-11 victory over the village employees, has two more important games coming up.

Electric Bills Were Higher This Summer

The electric energy used to help fight off this summer's heat waves is reflected in higher than normal electric bills now being sent to customers, according to Commonwealth Edison Company.

"Bills for most customers will be higher than last year at this time," said J. F. Scheuerman, Waukegan district manager, "because of the greater amount of electricity used and slightly higher charges for kilowatt-hours. Our records indicate that residential customers used more kilowatt-hours to cool off this June and July than they did in the same two months a year ago."

The Edison official pointed out that during the first two months of this summer there were 16 days of 90-plus degree weather, five more than last year.

Degree days, the measure of heat over the entire day, were also up substantially this year. This caused customers to use more energy to run air conditioners, as well as such appliances as refrigerators, freezers and fans.

He added that present charges reflect an average two percent increase in residential rates put into effect on an interim basis last February plus higher fuel adjustment charges, due in large measure to the increased use of higher priced fuels, mainly low sulfur coal.

Scheuerman also pointed out that electrical usage for air conditioning varies even between identical homes. He said factors affecting power consumption include the size and efficiency of air conditioning units or refrigerators, family size and living patterns, filter maintenance, thermostat setting and heat input into the house from sunlight or such activities as cooking, laundering, television and lighting.

Energy Conservation Slide Set Available

A U.S. Department of Agriculture slide set titled "Energy: Use It Wisely Around the Home," designed to show consumers how to conserve energy and reduce costs in the home, has just been released.

The 69-frame slide set can be purchased for $18.50 from Photography Division, Office of Communications, U.S. Department of Agriculture, Washington, D.C. 20250. The film-strip can be ordered for $11.50 from Photo Lab, Inc., 3825 Georgia Ave., N.W., Washington, D.C. 20011. A cassette with soundtrack and two copies of the illustrated narrative guide are included.

The first will be Saturday night at the Little League park against the Antioch Jaycees.

You may recall that the Firemen beat the Jaycees in donkey basketball last winter and won a barrel of beer. The Jaycees are hoping the Firemen will have to buy the beer this time.

There has been a breakdown in communications somewhere, because a representative of the Jaycees said the game will start at 8 o'clock while the Firemen say it will begin at 7.

(If the Firemen start at 7 p.m., they should have a pretty good lead built up by the time the Jaycees arrive at 8. But they may settle on a 7 o'clock or 7:30 starting time between now and Saturday.)

THE ANTIOCH Firemen also plan to play the Lake Villa Firemen on Saturday, Sept. 13.

But there is slight dissension in the Antioch ranks. You see, when the Firemen beat the village crew, two firemen - Scotty Lowe and Jim Krieger - played for the village.

Some of the firemen have been quoted as saying that Lowe and Krieger now must pass tryouts to get back on their old team.

Lowe reportedly refuses to go through the indignity of tryouts and threatens to pitch for the Lake Villa Firemen against his fellow Antioch Firemen.

"Let him," said Bill George-son. "He's easy. We beat him once and we can beat him again."

But the issue probably will be resolved amicably before game-time.

Colburn Nears Wilmot Title

Dick Colburn moved closer last Saturday night to the IRA (Interstate Racing Assn.) championship as he piloted his super modified racer to an unprecedented ninth feature win of the season on the speedway at Wilmot, Wis.

In the early going, Colburn narrowly missed being caught in a three-car pileup which saw the No. 77 machine of Bill Portalski airborne on the back straightaway before slamming down and tearing up its front end. Portalski, of Fox Lake, escaped serious injury but was shaken up.

Colburn drove his usual methodical race, taking the lead on the 15th lap of the special 30-lap event. From then on, it was all Colburn, with Joe Kristan of Waukegan coming on strongly to finish second.

The semi-feature race turned into a survival contest as a brief sprinkle made the clay track just slick enough to be treacherous.

The fourth and final heat race turned into an impromptu grudge race between Don Collins of Antioch and Ron Holdorf of Union Grove, Wis. Both drove aggressive races and the lead changed hands five times during the 10-lap event.

The race was punctuated with flying sparks and the crunch of sheet metal as both cars bumped and jostled coming down the straightaways and into the turns. Collins eventually won.

Coming up is a special Labor Day weekend series of races. On Saturday night, the regular program will be highlighted by twin 25-lap feature races for late model sportsman cars. And track officials will participate in a special race following the program.

On Sunday night, Aug. 31, a special IRA point program will take place as a makeup for the rainout on Aug. 16.

In addition to a full program of super modified and sportsman racing, the card will feature a program of open class motorcycle racing, including four-time national champion Ray Dropp of Palatine.

BIG LEAGUE FORM is displayed by 9-year-old Tony Besson as he swings the bat for Trevor Cub Scout Pack 353 in Sunday's big game against the Salem Pioneers 4-H junior team. Trevor won 11-4. Also winning was the Muscular Dystrophy Benefit, for which the game was played.

Illinois To Have Teal Season

A special teal season has been set for Illinois hunters Sept. 13 to Sept. 21.

Tony Dean, director of the Department of Conservation, said hunters will be allowed to take four blue-winged, green-winged or cinnamon teal during the nine-day season, and have eight in possession after opening day. Hunting hours are 7 a.m. to 4 p.m. daily.

"The special teal season is an outcome of the four waterfowl public hearings held in June," Dean said. "Hunters at several of the meetings were outspoken in favor of the special season, and at Carbondale they were overwhelmingly in favor of it."

Dean pointed out that teal usually migrate through Illinois before main waterfowl flocks, and hunters often have no chance to harvest this species.

"I caution waterfowlers to sharpen themselves on waterfowl identification," Dean said. "Hunters harvesting other species during the teal season risk heavy court fines."

Dean pointed out that all hunters must possess a valid Illinois hunting license and a 1975 Federal Migratory Bird Hunting Stamp if 16 years of age or older.

HOW TO CLOSE A POOL

The more than 86,000 American families that installed swimming pools this year may find themselves somewhat dampened when it comes to closing them down. However, even a pool-owner still wet behind the ears doesn't have to find himself in hot water if he sticks close to these pool-closing problem preventers.

1. Remove all bulbs and glass components from pool fixtures.

2. The main switches for all electrically powered pool equipment should be turned off and the fuses removed to prevent accidental starting or storm damage.

3. A canvas or plastic covering will keep debris out of your pool, but be sure it's strong enough to support anyone who might fall or walk onto it.

4. Protect any exposed metal by shutting off all supply valves and draining completely all pipes and equipment.

5. Oil moving parts and give all exposed metal a light coat of grease or oil to protect it from rust.

6. Clean diatomite filters, the type used in most modern pools either by sluicing or spraying the elements.

7. A good way to make sure your pool won't leave you high and dry when you re-open it is to install a new diatomite filter system with Celite filter aids made by Johns-Mansville before you close the pool.

8. If you find draining a strain, refrain. Many pool owners empty their pools only once a year to inspect pool walls and floors for damage.

Keep these hints in mind when the pool season is over, and you won't be all wet at the close!

Dog licks way into movie

By JOHN SINOR

On a sunny afternoon over the weekend, Kona the Wonder Dog made her first movie screen test. She flunked it.

I am running out of prospects for a rich life in Beverly Hills.

Some college students, including one from this household, were making a western for a film class in our canyon near Fort Killer. (Fort Killer is the clubhouse for "The Killers," a neighborhood club of 8 and 9 year old girls.)

Kona actually crashed the movie. She kept wandering in and out of scenes, licking the outlaw and jumping up and down on the sheriff. So they decided to give her a part.

The idea was to use her as a trademark like Leo, the old MGM lion. They figured if they could get her to yawn, it would approximate old Leo's roar.

Unfortunately, Kona was having too much fun to yawn. She just stood around with a silly grin on her face when the camera moved in for a close-up.

The one time she managed something that resembled a yawn, her cowboy hat fell over her face and ruined the shot.

I made a home movie many years ago, and I wish I had that film today. It was a monster movie, and most of my children are daffy for monster movies.

Casting was simple. We just went around to our friends and said: "Wanna be in the movies? Come over Saturday and bring a role of film."

The mad doctor was played by a REAL mad doctor. Actually, he was an anesthesiologist, but he was kind of dealing with a short deck. (I think he had been breathing some of his own stuff.)

Anyway, he had a lot of medical equipment and a white gown and everything, so he got the part. Like the guy who owned the baseball always got to pitch.

A disc jockey I knew got to be the monster. He had a messy looking white wig and a set of plastic bulging eyeballs.

We had our mad doctor play a sort of older looking teenage mad doctor. We called our film "A Boy and His Monster."

"Was it scary?" asked the children.

I said: "Scary? Man, it was terrifying. We had that monster throwing people over bridges and out windows and everything."

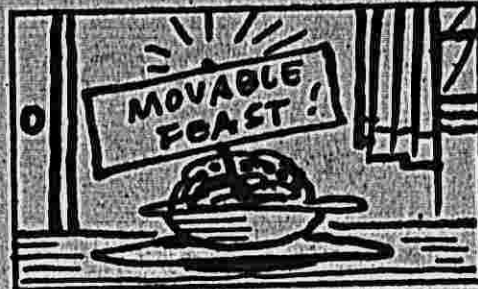

Those were special effects. We would shoot behind the monster's back while he tossed somebody over the bridge where the railing began. It was only about a three foot drop on the other side.

Then we would go down below and film him throwing a dummy over the middle of the bridge.

Same with the scene out the window. First we used the first floor window for the inside shot. Then a second floor window for the dummy shot. I said: "Kona, you really blew it. You could have been in the movies easy as anything."

Kona just looked at me and yawned.
